Dern Held to Have

Prospects in Senator King
Contest Not So Bright

It is the wish and hope of a large number of the political leaders in the state of Utah, that the election of the governor will be a contest between the two main parties, the Democrats and the Republicans. The Democrats are the ones who are in the majority in the legislature, and the Republicans are the ones who are in the majority in the executive branch. The election of the governor will be a contest between the two main parties, the Democrats and the Republicans. The Democrats are the ones who are in the majority in the legislature, and the Republicans are the ones who are in the majority in the executive branch.

Utah is the only state in the union where the governor is elected for a four-year term. The governor is elected by the people, and the legislature is elected by the people. The governor is the head of the executive branch, and the legislature is the head of the legislative branch. The governor is the one who appoints and removes the judges, and the legislature is the one who passes the laws.

HART IN DUAL ROLE URGED

Attorneys Think Prosecutor Should Handle Both Cases Against Keyes to Bar Mix-up

Although no word was received yesterday from Atty.-Gen. Webb on the appointment of an attorney to prosecute Dist.-Atty. Keyes on the bribery indictment returned Wednesday, sentiment in various local circles last night favored the appointment of Attorney John W. Hart to prosecute the indictment as well as the accusation, to which latter position he already has been named by Superior Judge Edmonds.

Several attorneys are of the opinion that the Keyes matter will be expedited greatly by the appointment of Attorney Hart to deal with both actions and thereby avert confusion in the dual prosecution of the accusation and the criminal indictment.

ONLY ONE PHASE
The position to which Judge Edmonds has appointed Attorney Hart special prosecutor relates only to the accusation, conviction of Keyes on the charges set forth in which would result only in his removal from office as District Attorney.

The criminal indictment prosecutor, however, remains to be named. That is conceded to be the duty of Atty.-Gen. Webb. Other than Attorney Hart to be appointed by Webb to prosecute Keyes on the indictment endures confusion in the action might arise, according to many lawyers.

SNOWDRIFTS Block Busses in Midwest

SIoux CITY (Iowa) Nov. 2. (Exclusive)—Of more than twenty busses operating out of Sioux City, busses over but one line, that to Yankton, S. D., were reaching their destination because of snow drifts that have filled many low places through which they must pass.

The lines to Fargo, N. D., Sioux Falls, Iowa, Omaha, and Norfolk, Neb., have suspended efforts to get through, and it was said none of them probably would be able to get out through before Sunday or Monday depending on weather and activity of the highway patrolmen in clearing the roads through the drifts.

Wall Street Hears He Won't

Friction With Officials of Company Reported

Heavy Stock Holdings Said
to Have Been Retained

NEW YORK, Nov. 2. (P)—The New York Times today says that according to reports in Wall Street John J. Raskob, who resigned as chairman of the finance committee of General Motors to accept the chairmanship of the Democratic National Committee, does not intend to resume that post after the election.

Whether he intends to give up his post on the board of directors and his vice-presidency could not be learned, the Times says. He retained those positions when he retired from the finance chairmanship.

FRICION DEVELOPS
The Times says it is reported that he intends to sever all connection with the company and his resignation will be submitted to the directors next Thursday.

When Mr. Raskob resigned from his position with General Motors Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., the president, wrote him a cordial letter which expressed the hope that when the campaign was over Mr. Raskob would return to his finance post. Many rumors had been spread that considerable differences had developed between Mr. Raskob and other influential members of General Motors over politics. Mr. Sloan and others of the directors have expressed their support of Mr. Hoover.

LARGE INTEREST
Unless he already has disposed of his interests, which Wall Street says he has not done, Mr. Raskob is one of the heaviest stockholders in General Motors. Several years ago he was instrumental in reorganizing the company and interesting the Dupont interests in it.

The Times says there also is considerable conjecture as to whether Pierre S. Dupont will resume his chairmanship of the board of directors, from which he was granted a leave of absence shortly after Mr. Raskob resigned. He gave as his reason that he did not wish to embarrass the company by his association with the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment. Shortly afterward he endorsed Gov. Smith's candidacy.

MORO CHIEF HELD GUILTY OF SEDITION

Philippine Supreme Court Upholds Lower Verdicts on Data and Aide

MANILA, Nov. 2. (AP)—The conviction of Datu (Chief) Tahil, Philippine Supreme Court, on a charge of sedition for leading an uprising against the insular government in Sulu province in January, 1927, was upheld today by the Philippine Supreme Court. The court also sustained a similar conviction against Datu Taron, a lieutenant of Tahil.

Chief Tahil and his followers had declared themselves an independent state in the Philippine constabulary set out to suppress the rebellion. The constabulary was prevented for some time from attacking the fort because of the Sulu, fourth wife of Tahil, joined her husband in his fight. The constabulary hesitated to fire for fear of killing a family member of the royal house of Sulu.

Tahil and the Princess finally fled and the constabulary attacked the fort. The Princess and the chief were captured later. Tahil was not in ten years in prison and fined 1000 pesos. Taron was sentenced to five years and fined 500 pesos. Tahil was educated in America before becoming wife No. 4 in Tahil's household.

MODERN EATING HELD ALL WRONG

Baltimore Dietitian Finds Essentials Lacking

BALTIMORE (AP) Nov. 2. (AP)—Dietitian facts which he believes may account for much that is wrong with the world, Dr. George Walker, Baltimore physician and research worker, today laid before the American Dietetic Association the initial results of a study of the eating habits of 100 families, ranging from the very poor to the very rich.

His investigation, growing out of an interest in the welfare of orphans, the insane and other inmates of public institutions in Maryland and elsewhere, he said, has brought to light a number of significant deficiencies in the everyday diets of people in general.

ALL ARE WRONG. Practically all of those he has studied, he said, whether they average only $1.00 a day for each individual or $10.00, consume too little of the essential minerals, too much of the vegetable and too little of the animal proteins, less than half the requirements in the way of nondigestible fibers or cellulose material, and probably only 50 per cent as much as they need of raw foods containing the very important but little understood vitamins.

The absence of that vitamin, which is virtually destroyed by cooking in all vegetables except tomatoes and potatoes, and is reduced in them, is known to cause scurvy. While this disease of the capillary blood vessels, smaller arteries and veins is rare in its recognized form except among isolated sailors and soldiers and explorers, Dr. Walker said he believed that many of the disorders which appear in the gums, the teeth, the upper part of the intestinal tract and the bones could be traced to the widespread deficiency of the same dietary element.

ASTHMA BAD. Among children in public institutions, he told the dietitians, he found that while they get enough of the carbohydrate, chiefly white bread and potatoes, not to be hungry, none had been able to investigate the variety of food necessary for normal growth and future health. They could be fed properly, he estimated, on 25.00 cents a day, a wholesale price.

For the average growing child, living at home, he calculated, a minimum expenditure of $1.21 cents a day at retail prices is necessary, and for their parents and grown-up brothers and sisters, 4.61 cents. The difference is largely accounted for by the fact that the child needs at least a quart of milk, rich in animal proteins, calcium and phosphorus, every day, while a pint will do for the adult.

Dr. Walker based his conclusions on analysis of the foods actually consumed during weekly or longer periods by white and negro families in the light of the most advanced dietary knowledge. Of 500 family food accounts, representing a daily individual expenditure around 40 cents, all showed deficiencies of one kind or another, he said, which could easily be corrected without adding to the cost. State agencies capable of giving such advice, he suggested, would fill an important public need.

DEFICIENT DIET. The general deficiency in fiber consumption, contributing to a number of human ailments, he thought, was a result of the tendency to pass up the coarse foods, raw and cooked, in favor of the more attractive, highly refined products from which most if not all of the roughage has been removed. The lack of the blood-building element of iron in 40 per cent of the food accounts analyzed, however, appeared to be more closely associated with economic conditions, as almost any generous diet will contain a sufficiency of this mineral.

Shortages of the other two most necessary minerals, calcium, or lime, and phosphorus, were even more pronounced. In 64 per cent of all of the diets, according to the dietitian, was below normal; while 60 per cent were deficient in phosphorus, essential to the growth and health of the nerves and bones, which also is chiefly obtainable from milk.

TOO LITTLE MILK. Low milk consumption also figured in the unbalanced distribution of animal and vegetable proteins, 60 per cent of which Dr. Walker said, should come from foods of animal origin because of the scarcity in vegetables of two of the five very complex indispensable amino acids which make up these elements of diet.

CRISIS ENDS IN CABINET OF FRANCE

"Complete Accord" Has Been Reached on Debated Budget Questions

PARIS, Nov. 2. (AP)—The French Cabinet today ended all differences that appeared for a time to threaten a crisis. It is announced there is "complete accord." The differences had arisen over two articles in the present budget. The articles in question concern the attribution of lands, houses and other forms of wealth to regularly constituted religious associations and deals with credits proposed by the Ministry of Finance for the establishment in France of novitiate and training schools for French foreign missions.

Radical ministers, who opposed the return of any and all religious orders and congregations, accepted the measure on the condition that the law will be limited and that every case will be taken up separately.

SAVANTS STARE AT PLANET STAR STARRING IN CINEMA SANS STAR

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2. (AP)—A motion picture in which the planet Jupiter is the leading actor was shown for the first time in America at the annual meeting of the Optical Society of America. The film was made by Prof. W. H. Wright at the Lick Observatory and was presented by Dr. C. E. K. Men of the Eastman Research Laboratory, who assisted in working out the intricate technical problems involved. It shows the diversified surface of the revolving planet in clear detail and even discloses the movement of a satellite carrying an flood as a stationary substance filling all space and serving as a medium for the propagation of light, electricity and magnetism, has no existence. Eventually, Prof. Michelson believes, Einstein's results will be reconciled with the assumptions.

The Michelson-Morley experiment was intended to determine the ether on the theory that any difference in the velocity of various light beams traveling in different directions which were not traceable to the motion of the earth about the sun could be laid to an ether drift. The experimenters achieved a negative result, which was considered as strengthening the definition of ether as a stationary substance.

RESULTS AT VARIANCE. The result of the Michelson-Morley experiment has been questioned by Dr. Dayton C. Miller of the Case School of Applied Science at Cleveland, who announced a different result from similar experiments. Since Dr. Miller's announcement, Prof. Michelson has repeated the experiment of forty years ago with the more delicate and more exact instruments available now.

Today was the fiftieth anniversary of Prof. Michelson's first contribution to fundamental knowledge, a paper on a method for measuring the speed of light, and in honor of the anniversary the association has named the "Michelson Medal."

Where Beauty has a Place in Everything

YOU will find nothing theatrical about Rancho Santa Fe, nor about our method of entertaining visitors.

It is just a quiet place of productive country estates... with America's most excellent climate, with soul-satisfying natural beauty, and with physical improvements designed to make these two thoroughly enjoyable.

It is not even on the main highway. You may have to look carefully for the direction sign at Solana Beach which points the way.

There is no booster club. No "bigger and better" civic campaigns.

Ostentation is lacking. There is no Fifth Avenue architecture. Homes possess the beauty of simplicity.

No cabarets. A man wanting to open a chicken dinner palace was refused.

Rancho Santa Fe is just quiet "country", where beauty has a place in everything, and people get the most out of this magic land called California.

Lately the GOLF COURSE Estates have been opened, where you can have a home in the midst of these lovely surroundings at less cost and with less responsibility than ever before. Mail coupon below for illustrated folder.

Elks to Raise Welfare Fund

SOUTHAMPTON (Eng.) Nov. 2. (AP)—Lady Heath, noted British woman flyer, had an appropriate send-off today when she sailed for the United States aboard the Le-Vianth for a lecture tour, two airplanes from the Fleet Air Arm, the Fleet Air Club, with which she is closely associated, escorted the liner down Southampton water.

Lady Heath's latest exploit was establishing a new altitude record for England, reaching a height of 25,000 feet. Lady Heath said, already has produced radical changes in social and family customs, and has placed women on an equal footing with men before the law. The appointment of Mrs. Chiang gives her powers equivalent to those of a Cabinet minister. She is the first woman to hold such a post in China.

Mrs. Chiang is a graduate of Wellesley and a sister of T. V. Boone, Minister of Finance. The general deficiency in fiber consumption, contributing to a number of human ailments, he thought, was a result of the tendency to pass up the coarse foods, raw and cooked, in favor of the more attractive, highly refined products from which most if not all of the roughage has been removed.

OF VISUAL RADIO

Washington Enthusiast Now
Broadcasting Pictures

Results Held Comparable to Crystal Set Reception

Television Matter of Short
Time, He Declares

BY MARTIN CODEL

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2. (Ex-clusive)—Whatever else may be said about television, C. Francis Jenkins insists that it is coming sooner than the experts and the "debunkers" think. The Washington inventor definitely promises that he will soon be able to transmit moving pictures and motion pictures from strip films for reception via the ether on specially-built receiving sets.

These sets will be relatively simple in construction and will probably be known as "radiovisions," said Mr. Jenkins. The inventor, who has been taking out scores of patents on visual radio transmission, declares that visual radio today is comparable to the early crystal set reception of audible radio and that developments from now on will be rapid.

PICTURES BROADCAST

The "radiovisions" which Mr. Jenkins has been broadcasting from his own experimental station here in Washington are likened to early motion pictures. They are in silhouette, he says, because the width of the broadcast band legally permissible is not great enough to transmit them with proper light values.

Mr. Jenkins has obtained a license from the government to employ a 100 kilocycle band, which represents a path in the ether ten times wider than the one he now is using in his experiments. He is conducting daily with the co-operation of a host of amateurs scattered throughout the country. He now is engaged in constructing the new transmitter and expects to have it in operation within a few months.

IT'S HERE NOW

"My answer to the repeated statement that radio motion pictures may not in reason be expected for home entertainment in this generation," said Mr. Jenkins, "is to advise the hundreds of amateurs east of the Mississippi who are watching our present pantomime pictures in their receiving sets.

"I am now," he added, "building a transmitter designed on an entirely new principle with which, in common with other skilled engineers who have seen it, we confidently expect to broadcast not only 'movies,' but actual inaugural ceremonies and like national events, theatrical performances and even grand opera for home entertainment—and we will begin some of it this very next summer."

TIME TO EXPERIMENT

An effort by other visual radio experimenters to obtain permission from the Federal Radio Commission to utilize the normal broadcasting band for pictures and television broadcasting has been partially successful. The commission has issued an order permitting pictures and television broadcasting from now until January 1, 1929, within the broadcast band between 550 and 1570 kilocycles.

Because the width of the signals carrying visual radio are sources of interference, the evening hours from 6 to 11 may not be used for these transmissions. Neither may the television experimenters occupy a band of frequencies wider than ten kilocycles. The extent of such broadcasting after January 1 will depend upon existing conditions of popularity of the visual transmissions with the general public and the limitations which may be imposed under the international radiotelegraph convention.

Three Cities
Join Plans for Armistice Day

VISALIA, Nov. 2.—American Legion posts of this city, Exeter and Tulare will unite this year in putting on what promises to be the biggest celebration in recent years on Armistice Day.

Following the parade, for which additional entries of marching units and decorated floats are being received each day, Buron Pitts, Los Angeles county district attorney-elect and former lieutenant-governor of the State, will deliver a patriotic address at the high school.

The afternoon program includes two football games and a rodeo. The Visalia Junior College team will play the Redkey team, and as the two teams are evenly matched fans expect a battle. The local unit of the National Guard and the fire department here will give exhibitions of their work, and a carnival company, granted a no-fee license by the Board of Supervisors, will furnish amusement for the crowd. Two dances are announced for the evening: one at the Sierra Park Pavilion and one in the Municipal Auditorium.

DINUBA PREPARING FOR HUGE CELEBRATION

DINUBA, Nov. 2.—Dinuba's streets already have donned festive apparel, with hundreds of yards of bunting and countless flags combining to decorate the city in honor of the approaching Armistice Day celebration sponsored by the local post of the American Legion.

The queen has been chosen, Miss Alpha Haymaker, who, with her attendants, the Misses Wilma Wylie and Helen McDonald, will rule over the affairs of the day, and final plans are being worked out for a real celebration of the tenth anniversary of the signing of the armistice.

Whims of Socialist Lose
Fight for Mayor

LONDON, Nov. 2. (AP)—Laborites were jubilant today with the results of the municipal elections throughout England, the Labor party having gained 137 seats in London and the provinces on the basis of afternoon tabulations.

In London the Labor party gained thirty-one seats and lost one, while in the provinces they gained 136 and lost nineteen. Of a total of 696 of their candidates, 332 thus far had been elected.

Women did well at the polls. More than 200 stood for election, half of whom were Labor candidates and about 100 were successful.

MACDONALD COMMENTS

"It is only another indication and a very certain one of how the tide is moving," said Ramsay MacDonald, the Labor party's leader, "that the results were an indication of what is going to happen at next year's general election. No real political significance can be attached to the results because the issues upon which local elections were fought differ so much from the Parliamentary contests," said one official.

SOCIALIST LOSER

One striking result of the election was the defeat of Socialist Lord Corbett, Socialist, who had been selected by his party as the next Mayor. Mr. Corbett had announced that "he had no use for churches and therefore would not head the Council in the customary church attendance following his installation as Mayor."

He now is engaged in constructing the new transmitter and expects to have it in operation within a few months.

Wisconsin Senator Says
Triumvirate Spending
Millions in Campaign

CHICAGO, Nov. 2. (AP)—Senator Blaine of Wisconsin dealt with eight issues of the national campaign at a Democratic rally here tonight.

Tespot Dome, farm raid, water wars, water power, foreign policies, injunctions, the Volstead Act, and campaign contributions received attention from the progressive Republican who has endorsed the candidacy of Gov. Smith.

Calling attention to the report of the Republican National Committee on contributions, Senator Blaine declared $200,000 of the total of $4,100,000 had been received from the "Ways and Means Committee of Pennsylvania" and another $100,000 from "The Republican National Committee of Pennsylvania."

He demanded to know why the contributors to those committees were not named and why the triumvirate of organizations backing Herbert Hoover, "the Republican National Committee, the Anti-Slavery League and the Ku Klux Klan."

Senator Blaine said these forces were backing Mr. Hoover with his full approval, not, in fact, the "no home, no man, no church, no fraternal organization, will be secured."

Anti-Slavery League he accused of spending millions in the campaign.

Prohibition Unsafe in Hands

MOBERLY (Mo.) Nov. 2. (AP)—Senator Curtis, the Republican Vice-presidential nominee declared here today that Gov. Smith's proposal to modify the immigration quota laws would defeat the objective of immigration restriction and would let into this country thousands more immigrants annually than are admitted today.

"Gov. Smith said in his speech of acceptance that he favored restrictive immigration," Senator Curtis declared. "But at the same time he ridiculed the basis of quota limitations on the census of 1890. In this seemingly trivial statement, he suggested the way by which the present restrictive immigration policy could be easily destroyed if he were elected. If the change were made, the number of immigrants permitted to come into the country each year.

"What Smith said in favor of restrictive immigration at all? He is what he said about immigration restriction in New York, March 17, 1923, St. Patrick's Day:

"I desire to say something about restriction on immigration because I feel so strongly against it. And I wish to say something about too severe literary test for citizenship because I am against that, too. Supporting our present immigration laws had been in force seventy or seventy-five years ago, where would we be now?"

NEW WORLD OPENS TO GIRL

Eleanor Reddick, After Years in Insane Asylum,
Found by Mother; Taken to Home in Fresno

FRESNO, Nov. 2.—A movie once a week, a dance once a month, the only diversion in sixteen years for a sane girl in an insane asylum, vanished today as Eleanor Reddick, 22 years of age, stepped from a train here. She already had found the haven of a mother's arms that rescued her from her strange life spent in an asylum at Las Vegas, N. M. Now she was to be introduced to a new world, home.

Eleanor was timid as she faced a battery of newspaper men and clicking cameras as she stepped from the train today with her mother, Mrs. W. P. Greve.

"Yes" and "No" were her replies to questions asked at her by the waiting newspaper men. Her mother shielded her and answered the questions with which her daughter was bombarded. Then she took the girl to Reddick where her stepfather, Mr. Greve, second husband, was located today in his work as a bridge construction foreman for the Santa Fe Railroad.

A broken heart led to the strange incarceration of the girl, Mrs. Greve said. Described as "her beautiful daughter," Mrs. Greve, then Mrs. Reddick, placed her two children, Alfred and Eleanor, in a home, in August, 1912, when the girl was 11 years old.

Supreme Court Asked to Reconsider Case

Canada Commuter Verdict
Called Dangerous

Labor Department Roused by Precedent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2. (AP)—Protesting against the recent refusal of the Supreme Court to review the decision of lower Federal courts holding that Canadians may cross the border daily to work in the United States without being required to produce passports and visas, the Department of Justice, at the urgent request of the Department of Labor, today asked the court to reconsider its action.

It requested that the court pass upon cases against Mary Cook and Antonio Danzani who were permitted to cross the border at Niagara Falls and Buffalo without immigration papers.

The importance of the case upon the general administration of immigration laws was not realized at the time the petition for review was filed, the government said, declaring that unless the decision of the Federal courts in New York is set aside, the result will be disastrous to the laws regulating the entrance of aliens into the United States. The government asserted that this would be true not only in the matter of aliens crossing the Canadian border but also those crossing the Mexican border and those entering at seaports.

"As a consequence of the decision as it now stands it is respectfully pointed out that not only British subjects of the white and black race but also of the oriental race can enter Canada and immediately gain admission to the United States for practically an indefinite period without regard to the immigration laws which forbid the admission of immigrants of persons ineligible for citizenship," the petition asserted.

It also pointed out that if the decision of the Circuit Court of Appeals is to remain in effect the acts of Congress which authorize passports and visas to be required of aliens would be unenforceable and without effect with respect to aliens domiciled in Canada but owing permanent allegiance to Great Britain, although for several years an executive order discussed under such acts of Congress, upon the recommendation of the Secretary of State, has required passports and visas in such cases as a condition to enter.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3. (U. P.)—The stock market generally held steady today, with a slight decline in the call rate and a bull movement in the foreign exchange market. The volume of trading was light, and the session closed with prices generally unchanged.

The market experienced a slight decline in the call rate, which fell from 1/2 to 1/4. This was due to a decline in the rate on the part of the Federal Reserve Bank. The bull movement in the foreign exchange market was due to a decline in the rate on the part of the Federal Reserve Bank.

OIL MEN PLAN CURB ON FLOW

Santa Fe Springs Operators Would Save Gas

New Wells to Run Naturally Fifteen Days

Resolution of Committee Helps State Plan

During the development of the Santa Fe Springs deep oil some of the wells will be permitted to flow naturally for fifteen days and then will be pro-rated in accordance with a general plan for gas conservation which is being worked out by a committee of fifteen operators.

A resolution to this effect was adopted by an operators' committee of fifteen yesterday on recommendation of a subcommittee.

COMMITTEE RESOLUTION

The resolution follows: "Whereas, the Governor of the State of California, through the Governor's gas conservation committee, has called upon the operators in the Santa Fe Springs field to prevent as far as possible creating and maintaining a surplus of natural gas in excess of that which can be put to beneficial use after being separated from the oil which has been produced by said gas; and

"Whereas, experience in the production of oil has demonstrated that a larger ultimate production of oil can be secured, and a greater conservation of gas effected, by flowing wells against a back pressure controlled by flow plugs or beams and

FRACTURE UNIFORM

"Therefore, the committee on jurisdiction of Santa Fe Springs gas production recommends that a uniform practice of back pressure in all wells in the Santa Fe Springs field be adopted for the purpose of conserving gas and materially reducing the amount of gas currently produced in the field; and that the operators of the Santa Fe Springs gas conservation committee and to increase the ultimate recovery of oil; and in order to accomplish this in a manner fair and equitable to all operators and others owning wells or having an interest in the production of oil and gas therefrom, it is necessary that the procedure for gas conservation should be accepted uniformly and followed by all operators.

"For this purpose the committee on jurisdiction of Santa Fe Springs gas production recommends to the operators of the Santa Fe Springs field the following plan of action: "That all new wells completed at Santa Fe Springs be produced at a uniform rate, that all wells be equipped with high pressure casing heads and fittings capable of withstanding 2000 pounds test pressure, or better.

PERCENTAGE OF FLOW

"That whenever the gas production at Santa Fe Springs exceeds the usage in the field and the demands of the gas companies and the demands of representing and storage projects so that an actual surplus exists, each flowing well producing from zones lower than the Meyer zone should be plugged back by a percentage of its net oil production to be set by a control committee, to be appointed by the Santa Fe Springs operators; the percentage cut to be uniform and applicable alike to all such wells; that each new flowing well brought in from zones below the Meyer zone be allowed to produce normally for fifteen days, and that thereafter in each such well shall be plugged back at the end of fifteen days, the total percentage cut then in effect; that said percentage cut shall be applied on the average production of the well during the last five days of said fifteen-day period; that if any well subject to cut shall develop pressures or mechanical difficulties which prohibit the entire percentage cut then due, the company possessing such well shall make additional cuts on other wells to obtain the equivalent barrelage cut due on the well in question.

APPLICABLE ALIKE

"That the control committee may change the percentage of cut at its discretion whenever the conditions warrant, by adding additional cuts or by reducing cuts already in effect, the same to be applicable alike to all wells.

"That the foregoing program shall be accepted in writing by all operators owning or operating wells in the Santa Fe Springs field; that upon the acceptance of the foregoing plan, the control committee shall issue the necessary instructions to carry this program into effect at the proper time; that the operators of the field will furnish this committee with the necessary information as to their daily production and other pertinent data acted for by said committee and that this committee is authorized to call upon and be furnished by all marketing companies, pipe line companies and others running or removing oil from the Santa Fe Springs field, oil runs to the delivery of oil operators in the field, for the purpose of establishing complete compliance with this program.

"That this program shall continue in effect for six months from the date set by the control committee at the beginning of the curtailment. If one month prior to the end of the six-month period it appears to the control committee that the emergency will still exist, the committee shall so notify the Santa Fe Springs operators in order that measures may be taken to extend the period.

PACIFISTS PELT PASADENA POST

Organizations and Persons Hit Armistice Day Plans

Mimic Battle in Trenches Cause of All Controversy

"Earthquake in Colorado" Suggested as Substitute

PASADENA, Nov. 2.—The local American Legion post may be forced by public opinion to abandon its plan to present a mock battle of the Argonne as part of the Armistice Day program in this city, but when Legion officials meet tomorrow morning with representatives of organizations which have protested the proposed patriotic spectacle, a verbal barrage of greater intensity than was laid down during the World War is expected to result.

A political skirmish was fought in the Legion clubhouse, 131 North Main street, yesterday, when fifty men and women, representing peace organizations and civic groups, stormed Adjutant Robert M. McCurdy's office and voiced their protest at the plan to stage a "militaristic exhibition on a day which should be devoted to the celebration of peace."

DELEGATES DISSENT

The delegates were dissatisfied with McCurdy's explanation that the mock battle would be followed by the Rose Bowl program with a talkshow of peace, and declared that anything suggesting the glamour of war should be stricken from the Armistice Day celebration.

Mrs. Clara Bryant, Laywood, chairman of the international relations committee of the Shakers, Mrs. C. O. McCasland, representing the Civil League, Mrs. D. H. Smith, and prominent local ministers, were among those who protested.

R.O.T.C. RAISES FEAR

Mrs. McCasland expressed fear that the battle scene in which members of the junior college R.O.T.C. have been asked to participate would emphasize the glamour and not the horror of war in the minds of the young men.

Adj. McCurdy replied that if the R.O.T.C. is reluctant to train students to be army officers, he could not understand why the public should not be given a practical demonstration of their training.

The burst of applause which followed the adjutant's question, "Why don't you have the R.O.T.C. drill?" indicated that the group is in favor of such a move.

Despite McCurdy's declaration that many tickets to the Legion show have been sold on the "pulling power" of the battle scene, and that it is his intention to change the program at a late date, one of the women present expressed the view that unless the veterans eliminate the battle of the Argonne, the Pasadena Legion may be responsible for starting another world conflict.

AGED BICYCLIST Killed in Crash

GLENDALE, Nov. 2.—L. P. Klingman, 75 years of age, of 1311 Winchester avenue, was almost instantly killed when the bicycle on which he was riding was struck by a truck driven by Floyd T. Ford, 2041 Los Colinas street, Eagle Rock. The man was hurled to the pavement and received a fractured skull, a broken leg and other injuries that caused his death before he could be removed to a hospital. The accident occurred at Glendale Road and Thompson street. Ford told police that he was driving south on Thompson and that Klingman rode out from behind another car, cutting in the opposite direction and swerved into his truck before Ford could stop. Ford was released after being questioned by the police.

YOUTH SENTENCED IN ATTACK CASE

SANTA ANA, Nov. 2.—Charles Collins, 23 years of age, of Orange, today was sentenced by Superior Judge Allen to serve a term of one year to fifty years at San Quentin. Collins was convicted of a criminal attack against Lydia Johnson, 18 years of age, of this city.

"I only wish the law gave me authority to fix the length of your sentence," the judge declared. "Meanwhile, Dr. Kaufman and Collins were preparing to press a charge of grand theft against the victim, Lydia Johnson, who was on the night of the attack upon her."

COURT SETS HARBARND BAIL

Stock Salesman Under Indictment for Grand Theft Has $4000 Fixed as Amount for Security

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 2.—Bail for Harry I. Harbard, stock salesman, under indictment for grand theft of securities worth $3500 and violation on two counts of the State Corporation Securities Act, was fixed at $4000 by Superior Judge Andrews today. The defendant was remanded to custody to arrange bond. Arraignment of Harbard, who was arrested by Los Angeles police yesterday and returned here in custody of Deputy Sheriff John Stevens, was continued to Thursday morning at 9:30 o'clock.

The indictment voted by the county grand jury Wednesday afternoon charged the stock salesman of obtaining $5500 worth of securities from Carl Furber on October 1, as one count. The second count charged violation of the Securities Act by asserting failure to obtain a permit of the Corporation Commissioner when giving a promissory note in exchange for the stock. The third count likewise charged violation of the act by failure to obtain a permit for dealing in stocks.

Another indictment returned by the grand jury against an individual in connection with an oil-stock deal.

TWO-SIDED CHARACTER INTRIGUES
Striking Departure Noted in John Gilbert Picture at Loew's State
BY MARQUIS DUBBY
"The Masks of the Devil," current at Loew's State Theater, is one of the most unusual pictures to come to the screen this year. It abandons all traditions. The villain is the hero, to cite an instance. How the picture-going public will accept it is quite another matter. In fact, I doubt if it is a feature that will be liked generally.
There are touches of "Strange Interlude," the unique O'Neill play, in this picture. Of course, the stories are entirely dissimilar, but the treatment in both is not unlike. In "Strange Interlude" the characters express their thoughts in the "inside." In "The Masks of the Devil" the characters' thoughts are shown in double exposure. One sees the things the character would like to do, and does not. For, to paraphrase, "thus convention doth make cowards of us all."
No modern writer draws more compelling characters than Jacob Wassermann. Count Reiner of "The Masks of the Devil" is as fascinating, as sinister, as paradoxical as Eve Sorel of "The World's Illusion." Reiner, in a sense, suggests Dorian Gray. He is a man with the face of an angel, and the soul of a devil. As an allegorical painting, for which Reiner has posed, the Archangel Michael and the Devil, represents the two sides of his nature.
Reiner goes through life spreading tragedy. He sends his best friend on an exploring trip that he may lay claim to a high-born woman, and the death of her husband, at last, in a mirror, he sees the mask of the devil. It is his own face hideously distorted with the mark of every sin.
And still, at the close of the picture, the viewer, the other and the better man, prefers Reiner. The ending is a happy one. Presumably, Reiner faces a better life. And, strangely enough, the ending does not seem illogical. After knowing the fascinating Reiner the girl would hardly be happy with the noble explorer.
Wassermann's rambling style, and habit of introducing numerous characters, scarcely lend themselves to a well-kept screen story. At times, in the picture, it is hard to follow the action. The film is over-long and drags at times. However, "The Masks of the Devil" deserves commendation for being strikingly unusual, a relief from stories written to pattern. Victor Seastrom to be credited with a fine piece of direction.
It is advisable to see this picture from the beginning. It is not a story where in the thread of the plot can be picked up at any time. Stumbling in, after the beginning, it may seem distorted.
John Gilbert is an interesting Count Reiner. It is one of the most striking roles he has been called on to play since "The Devil and the Dress" and he acquires himself with credit. Gilbert fans, I believe, will like Gilbert whether or not they care for the novelty of "The Masks of the Devil." His love scenes are somewhat handicapped by the frigidity of Eva von Berne, the girl with whom he at last falls in love. Miss von Berne shows some signs of promise in her first screen role in America, but she is a bit too much the plump and placid frau.
Alma Rubens is exquisite as the woman who is driven to suicide through love of Reiner. She has beauty and grace to a high degree. Theodore Roberts, his old delightful self, cigar and all, appears as the artist. Ralph Forbes gives a well-drawn characterization as the youthful explorer. Others in the cast are Ethel Wales, Frank Reicher and Polly Ann Young.
Fanchon and Marco's "Silhouette" idea presents some lovely effects, but there are too many silhouettes. Some how there is bad audience psychology in a darkened stage. It is better to see the dancers and the singers than to see but their shadows. Cushing and Hutton have nice voices, and Le Claire and Carita may be a good adagio team. I couldn't tell through the curtain of darkness. Tren and Barnett are just so-so, but Chief Eagle Feather even matters with excellent buck and wing dancing.
Joseph Regan, appearing in a song cycle in an M-G-M. Movie-tune short, and Fox Movietone news weekly complete the program.

"Nightstick" Glorifies the Copper
Patsy Ruth Miller
Will take a leading part in the comedy-drama which the Henry Duffy Players plan to introduce tomorrow at the President Theater. It is a narrative of crooks and the defenders of the law.
PERENNIAL "SALLY" AT PALACE
It goes without saying that you remember "Sally," that merry, tuneful Ziegfeld show whose delightful melodies were on the lips of most everyone a few years ago.
Well, "Sally" came back to town yesterday with some frivolous new gowns and served to reopen the Broadway Palace Theater in its new policy of presenting musical comedies and pictures.
It was a gala occasion. The theater was packed and an enthusiastic audience greeted the company of singers and dancers which had been assembled for the production. There were flowers and bright applause at the conclusion of the presentation, which was run off in record time.
Similar enthusiasm followed the picture showing, "The Matinee Idol," with Beulah Love, Johnny Walker and Lionel Belmore, a rollicking comedy of small-time stage life.
If first nights are any criterion, the Broadway Palace should be successful in its new policy. After all this theater with its array of boxes and in its intimate grouping of seats was planned and built originally to serve as a vaudeville house and it is admirably adapted to the production of longer stage shows.
The plot of "Sally" is too well known to be retold in any detail. It is the story of a pretty little orphan who is taken to a boarding school in a restaurant. From dishwashing she progresses to dancing and, seen by a bright entrepreneur of the variety, is engaged to take the place of a notorious Russian dancer, Mrs. "Knockover." As the Madame she wins the heart of a handsome formance. As Mona O'Brien, she easily "wins the decision" in "Bea Broadway."
Cody supplies plenty of humor throughout the whole film, excelling in a particular church sequence. Allen Pringle is as lovely as always in a role much too trivial for her abilities.
Klit Guard, Hugh Trevor, James Jeffries, and Helene Conklin complete the cast of principals.
Mal St. Clair directed.
Banquet Given in Honor of Art Project
The Los Angeles Repertory Theater had its official beginning last evening at a brilliant banquet given by Mr. L. E. Behrman at the Biltmore Hotel. Mr. Behrman presided over an assembly of notables from many parts of the world, including Nance O'Neill, William J. Locke, Rod La Rocque, Vilma Banky, and others, and the theme of drama was discussed by famous men and women identified with its progress. Mr. Locke and Mr. Simon Green, who are closely associated with Mr. Behrman in the new enterprise, which opens the 19th inst. at the Playhouse, responded to the introductions with interesting details of the ambitious plans of the new Los Angeles theatrical unit.
Orta E. Monnette, chairman of the Los Angeles Public Library board and well known for his interest in the cultural arts, spoke eloquently of the power dramatic art is to play in the future life of Los Angeles and paid his tribute to Miss Nance O'Neill, who is to be the star of the first offering of the Repertory Theater, "The Silver Cord," by Sidney Howard.
Mr. Green, who graciously thanked the directors for the privilege of her role of importance and remarked that because she is a Californian and the author of the play was a native son, she felt peculiarly in sympathy with this attempt to establish a fine theater movement in the West. She was cheered by the several hundred guests.
Gilmer Brown of the Pasadena Playhouse, characterized the new theater as an effort to "create intelligent audiences for intelligent plays."
Others at the speakers' table who availed themselves of the privilege to congratulate the founders on this civic venture were Mrs. Leland Atherton Irish, Mr. William Hamilton Cline, Mrs. R. D. Shepherd, Mr. R. D. MacLean, Mrs. Carrie Jacobs Bond, Mr. Rod La Rocque, Mr. William J. Locke, Mr. Locke, Vilma Banky, Mr. Reginald Pole and Mr. Olin Brown.

STAGE-LIFE SUBJECT OF 'MET' FILM
Pleasing Comedy Evolved by Bebe Daniels; Charley Chase in Person
BY PHILIP K. SCHUEER
"Take Me Home," a Bebe Daniels starring comedy, duly took its place yesterday in the procession of attractions at the Metropolitan Theater. Charley Chase, the moving-picture comedian in person, fell in line with other talented performers of the Public stage rerun, "Oscar Blues," and Marion Harris, blues singer, joined the marchers with a Movietone act.
The Daniels vehicle proved to be a comedy of backstage life; and looking back, I cannot recall that there was anything wrong with it, particularly since the orchestra used as a theme-song, "Just Imagine," a tender little ditty which invariably causes me to dream all over and to look at the screen through roseate-hued and, I am afraid, most uncritical spectacles.
The narrative, which moves for the most part between a cheap theatrical boarding-house and the musical-comedy stage, tells of a country boy who comes to the city to outshine the footlights, and of the love he finds there instead. Neil Hamilton is the boy and Miss Daniels the epitome of love, beauty and good and both are outshined by Lilian Tashman as the prima donna who almost separates them. Here, it would seem, is as fine and authentic a bit of character-drawing as anybody could possibly bring to the role of this Derbys De Vore.
The excellent Marshall West's direction doubtless is to be credited for the interest aroused in a very ordinary bunch of folks settling around in a story which never burns out to be any great shakes. Herman J. Mankiewicz's titles, as well, reek of the stings of that large and ever-fascinating region behind the asbestos curtain which we try to sum up in mere words as "the stage."
It is the title, too, as well as Hamilton's careful characterization of the lad from the farm, which prevent him from ever showing up as too entirely absurd for credibility. Especially I liked the caption in which, convinced of the perfidy of Miss Tashman's prima donna, he says to her: "Back on the farm I used to read about people like you—in the cheaper magazines."
Joe E. Brown, he of the expansive mouth, makes a small part register; and others in the cast are Doris Hill, Ernie Wood, J. W. Johnston, Marcia Harris, Janet MacLeod and Tronzo Howard.
Ethel Doherty wrote the screen play from a story by Harlan Thompson and George S. Brown.
Charley Chase, the Hal Roach funny man, discloses the easy manner and the assurance which we have come to associate with him in his silent meanderings. Chase explains why he doesn't approve of the much-lauded "personal" appearance, and permits the audience to see a genuine movie star from every angle, full-face to profile. He comes out later wearing what he calls "a cat-in-the-hat" but I don't see much sense in that. Still later, bursting into not unmelodious song, he confesses to a longing for the life of an orphan, and chants an ode to the refrain of which runs:
"The flowers that bloom in the spring, tra-la.
Have nothing to do with this song."
The balance of the revue reveals talents rather than usual with Miss Athlete and presumably bona fide traffic officer raising pleasant if not lusty voices. Al Norman dancing eccentrically, Fred Jenks becoming suggestive, and the Foster Girls (and doesn't this man Foster ever sleep, that he is able to train so many miss every week!) making pretty pictures in sailor outfits.
Marion Harris's M-G-M sound-recording has a mellow ring to it. A tidal wave in China is an extraordinary feature of the current Paramount News.
Eddie Cantor Talking Film Comes Monday
Fred Miller of the Carthy Circuit announces today that Paramount has shipped him by air mail from New York City unique all-talking Movietone feature, comedy as a special added attraction to be shown with "Interference," opening Monday night.
This extra attraction is "Eddie Cantor, That Party, in Person."
